MEET MARY TINCHER

Mary Louise Tincher, a Bowling Green native and Western Kentucky University graduate, was a member of Indian Hills for more than 50 years before her passing in 2018 at the age of 90. Both the club and the game of golf held very special places in Mary's heart. Her dedication to each was only rivaled by her charitable work within the community.

Mary was an excellent golfer with more titles than she could count. She reportedly shot in the 70s several times and, at her best, was an 8 handicap.

She enjoyed golf even as a small child, and her passion continued through college and into adulthood. She and her husband, Bob, joined IHCC in the early-60s and contributed to club enhancements and provided overall unwavering support and promotion.

HONORING THE WOMAN WHO HONORED THE GAME

"Golf is such a good sport for kids and people coming up because it teaches you honor, it teaches you manners and how to get along with people you play with. I think when you watch on TV you can see the discipline of the people who play. And you can play forever. You can't do that with a lot of sports."
